As a biracial person whose parents’ marriage was illegal in many areas of the US at the time and who came of age during the height of the Civil Rights and school desegregation battles of the 1960s and 70s, I have a keen interest in diversity issues.